STEWARDSHIP CORNER

"Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them and they all drank from it." - Mark 14:23

Jesus, the perfect steward, gave thanks, just before He gave Himself to us completely for our salvation. He offers us the chance to drink from His cup. In the Eucharist, we meet Christ personally and, if we listen to Him, we know what drinking from His cup means for each of us. Often, it means our own sacrifice – giving up some of our time, talent and treasure to do His work on earth.

Applying the feast of Corpus Christi to Life Today?

- What does it mean for us to become 'the body of Christ' in the world?
- How does the Eucharist nourish you?
- How does the Eucharist sustain and nourish you in living out your faith day-by-day, week by week?
- As Christians, who is your family?

DON'T MESS WITH MARRIAGE

With the imminent introduction of a bill to Federal Parliament to legalise same-sex marriage, Bishop Tomlinson has forwarded some material supporting the case to retain the present legislation supporting the definition of Marriage as a union between a man and a woman. He has also included Bishop Greg O'Kelly SJ's Pastoral Letter to his Diocese of Port Pirie as an additional and excellent presentation of the issue.

Most Rev. Anthony Fisher OP, Chair, Bishops Commission for Family, Youth and Life has put out a pastoral letter and a media release on this issue.

A Booklet titled "Don't Mess with Marriage " has been released. This booklet has been put on the front page of our diocesan website, www.sandhurst.catholic.org.au

It can be found under the heading "Pastoral Letter on Marriage".

Copies of above information can be found in the Narthex and on the Diocesan website.

Liturgical Jottings

From the ORDO

The Liturgy is the summit toward which the activity of the Church is directed; at the same time it is the fount from which all the Church's power flows.

Year of Consecrated Life Mercy Sisters

The religious institute began with inherited wealth by Catherine McAuley in a house in Dublin providing education and social services for poor women and their families. The initial community of lay women were incorporated as a religious group. The local Church hierarchy permitted the formation of a non-cloistered institute of women to go out into the wider community wherever the need was seen and serve the poor outside their convent. Education and pastoral work is still a large focus of the Mercy International Association.

Focus on the Gospel

The readings this week, speak of the gathering for meal. This was the way that Jesus chose to gather his friends together in order to say goodbye. Within the ritual of Passover, the acknowledgement of faith, was the action of eating and drinking together. It is rare that we sit down to eat with strangers. When we eat together we share our lives, we nourish each other in body and soul. When we gather we are community, whether it is large groups, friends or families. Good meals are never rushed, good meals take time. We begin with the invitation, we consider our food, we prepare, we eat, we talk, we share and we connect with others. Food makes us comfortable, it gives us a point of gathering.

Recently a group of friends and I gathered to remember one of our birthdays. I was responsible for the beginning of the meal and proceeded to make a soup containing ingredients that two of the people were not fond of. Good start! But I do not think it diminished our gathering, because it was not so much the food we gathered for, but the desire to be in "communion" together.

Jesus gathered with his friends, he ritualised the action of eating and he chose to spend his last free time with these people. I do not believe he gathered these people just so they could have something to eat, but rather because He wanted to be in communion with them.

I do not believe that any of us gather here because we yearn to taste this wafer or love the flavour of this wine, but I think we gather because we are a community, who yearn to be together, and yearn to be closer to Jesus in the action of gathering and eating together. Certainly the amount of bread and wine we get cannot sustain us through the week, but the Body and Blood of Jesus can sustain us through life. That Body and Blood is available in the elements of the Eucharist, in the people we gather with, the Word we are fed with and the presence of Jesus at our table.

So, enjoy the feast of the community.

Quotable Quote:

"When Christians take counsel together, their purpose should not be to ascertain what is in the mind of the majority, but what is in the mind of the Holy Spirit – something which might be quite different." – Margaret Thatcher

From Today's Readings

How shall I make a return to the Lord for all the good he has done for me? Psalm 116:12

© 2015 Diocese of Sandhurst

In the Eucharist we see love. The life-giving power of Eucharist is not just eating Jesus' body and drinking his blood. It is life-giving from the presence of a loving God, made available to us in the body broken and blood spilt, because of that love. As Jesus shows his love for us we are asked to do the same – 'Go, the Mass is ended.' Eucharist is a way of life!
