Liturgical Jottings

The Gloria

Originally a hymn written by an early Christian in imitation of the biblical hymns like the Magnificat. It is a hymn to God and Christ to praise God and profess faith in Christ. It remained as a hymn outside Mass for a few centuries and became an opening hymn at Christmas Mass in 530. From a people's song, to a bishop's only recitation the Gloria gradually became a hymn that priests and congregation could sing together. But it was not until the eleventh century that it became an integral part of the Mass rite on every feast day. Today the Gloria has the character of an introduction, and a preparation to the Mass. (GIRM 46) The text may not be replaced by any other. It is sung or said on Sundays outside Advent and Lent, and also on Solemnities and Feasts, and at particular celebrations of a more solemn character. (GIRM 53)

Looking at the Readings

It was not enough to want to follow Jesus and to be committed to him. Discipleship also demanded the ability to make shifts in understanding in order to recognise what following Jesus required. He did not merely repeat the religious tradition, he re-interpreted it. We too are called to understand the words and deeds of Jesus, but we must understand what they mean for us today. Today we need to make comparable shifts of understanding in order to bring the message of Jesus into conversation with the contemporary world.

Perhaps one of the most exciting and, at the same time, unnerving aspects of our religious tradition is its nonconforming nature. We think that we finally understand the way God is working in our lives and then something happens that seems to turn our understanding inside out. We are told to love our neighbour and when we ask who that might be we are told a story that turns the question around. 'Who is my neighbour?' or 'Whom should I love?' becomes 'Who acts as a neighbour?' or 'Who shows love?'

The same Sunday that we reflect on the paradoxical nature of the ways of God, we are told that the law of God, which appears to be so lofty, is really very close to us, in our mouths and in our hearts. This too is an unusual claim. Following the law results in a way of living that is inspired and informed by love, love of God and love of others, even, and especially, those whom we are not inclined to love. © Dianne Bergant CSA

Prayer for the Day

In Christ you draw near to us, God of mercy and compassion, lifting us out of death, binding up our wounds,
and nursing our spirits back to health.

Let such a tenderness as yours compel us to go and do likewise.
through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Quote of the Week

Christian love is loving without counting the cost. This is the lesson of the Good Samaritan; this is the lesson of Jesus.

Pope Francis

On the Lighter Side

A zookeeper noticed one day all the animals were laughing, except the donkey. The next day he saw the donkey laughing but no others. He asked the lion what's going on. He said yesterday the giraffe told a joke but it was only now that the donkey got the joke.

Sea Sunday – 10 July 2022

For the Weekend of 9/10 July 2022: Today is Sea Sunday, when the church prays for all those who live and work at sea. Without them, we would not have most of the items we rely on for daily living. Even during a pandemic, seafarers continue to bring into our ports products that sustain our population and economy.

The Appeal today is for Stella Maris, Apostleship of the Sea, the official maritime welfare agency of the Catholic Church. It supports seafarers both practically and spiritually. To assist this ministry, please send your donations to: <https://stellamarisaustralia.org/sea-sunday-appeal/>
